

Anacostia

If you are going to bake your own cakes, read Walther's ad.

Mr. Geo. S. King has sold to Mr. W. E. Pyles one of the New brick houses on 14th street, between V and W streets, S. E. Anacostia, D. C.

We are very sorry to announce the death of John L., the infant son of Police Sergeant and Mrs. Ready of 310 Nichols Ave. They have our sympathy.

Miss Isabel Sayman of Baltimore, was the guest of Miss Ruth Whaley on Minnesota Ave., for Thanksgiving and returned to her home on Monday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mushake of Nichols Ave., were the recipients of a splendid Thanksgiving present in the shape of a dear little girl. We heartily congratulate the happy parents.

Mounted Police Charles Weber has purchased a home in Congress Heights and moved there this past week. We congratulate him on his purchase, but are sorry to lose him and his family as residents.

Anacostia Chapter No. 12 R. A. M. tendered a reception and entertainment to the wives, daughters and lady friends of its members Tuesday night, Nov. 30, at the Masonic Hall, corner 14th and U streets. A splendid program was rendered which was as follows: Mr. Charles Roberts, chairman of the entertainment committee, made the welcome address in his own happy style. Vocal solo, Mr. Charles Roberts; vocal solo, Mr. Milton Fillius; Trombone solo, Mr. Dorner; recitation, Mr. Purdy. Miss Elizabeth Pyles presided at the piano. All were heartily enjoyed and responded. Then "Le Roy" the Magician, connected with the Y. M. C. A. of Washington, was introduced and entertained the audience for an hour with tricks of legerdemain wonderful to behold. After the program closed the entire audience was invited to the hall below, where refreshments were served. This ended a most delightful evening. The Royal Arch Chapter knows many things, one of the most prominent is how to entertain their guests. They do it in a Royal way.

Randle Highlands

The trustees of the Randle Highland Baptist Church held an important meeting Wednesday night to consider the future welfare of the church.

An enjoyable evening was spent last Thursday night at the Baptist Church. A social time was passed, after which refreshments were served and everybody was very happy.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Hoffmann is able to be up again after several weeks of sickness.

(By Angelomaria Pennella)

An industrial boom has revolutionized the cities of northern Italy; and a flood of emigration to North and South America has entirely changed the situation in Sicily and the South. The Italians are now thoroughly alive to the opportunities of science and trade. The recent Milan Exposition was ample evidence of this. Especially in the development of wireless telegraphy and the making of high-class automobiles, Italy is now on the firing line of modern progress. More than three thousand Italians crossed the ocean to visit our St. Louis exposition; and our business with Italy, passenger and freight, has grown so fast that it is making eleven steamship lines prosperous. (Continued next week.)

Archness

Sally Gay—What a cunning little fellow Mr. Callipers is! Dolly Swift—Cunning? Why, he's dreadfully bow-legged. Sally Gay—Yes, but that gives him such an arch look, you know.

Congress Heights

Mr. John W. Brown of Fifth street, is erecting a beautiful home for his daughter.

Policeman Weber of Anacostia, has moved to Wahler's Sub-division, corner 9th and Savannah St.

Everybody is anxious about Mr. D. V. Padgett and will be glad to know that he is improving, though slowly.

Rev. Mr. Pettie of the St. Andrew's Church, Washington, will preach at the Ester Memorial P. E. Church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. J. S. Falek, a young man from the northwestern section of the city, is being employed by Mr. Edward J. Newcomb, the Congress Heights Druggist.

Rev. Wm. Bradshaw has resigned his charge as associate rector of the Ester Memorial Church. Mr. Bradshaw intends taking a trip to the South for his health.

The Busy Bees of Congress Heights well deserve their name for they are indeed busy and are prospering. We sincerely hope that all their efforts will be crowned with the greatest success.

Through the efforts of the Public Improvement Association of Congress Heights the Commissioners have embodied in their estimates for this year the sum of $110,000 for the extension of the water service.

The regular meeting of the G. K. W. Club was held at the home of Mrs. Flora Burn, Congress Heights, on Tuesday evening, November 23rd. After the regular routine of business the meeting was turned over to the entertainment committee which had arranged an interesting program of music and games. Prizes were awarded to the lucky contestants after which refreshments were served.

Benning and Kentworth

Lieut. Gaston D. Johnstone, U. S. N., at present commanding the U. S. S. Lancaster at Philadelphia, and Mrs. Johnstone is visiting with Mrs. Johnstone's mother, Mrs. Harry Boyer, at her cottage in Benning, D. C.

The people of Benning and vicinity are very welcome to send any news of interest to our paper.

THE WASHINGTON POULTRY SHOW

December 7-11.

From present indications the fourth annual poultry show of the Columbia Poultry and Pigeon Association, which will be held in the Armory of the Washington Light Infantry under Chase's Theatre at 15th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W., is going to be the best ever held in this city. The committee in charge are more than pleased with the long list of entries. There will be prize birds from Canada, in the frozen North to New Orleans in the Sunny South.

It is expected that Secretary Wilson of the Department of Agriculture, will be on hand for the opening, and committees have been appointed to entertain the distinguished guests that will visit the exhibition. The governors of Maryland and Virginia are coming and members of the diplomatic corps, senators and representatives, and prominent members of Washington society will attend during the week. Saturday will be the children's day. The armory has been tastefully decorated for the occasion and the show will be open from 9 a. m. to 11 p. m. each day. Eighteen silver cups and other substantial prizes are being offered for the best birds in the different classes.

Quite So.

"Pa, will you tell me what a financial genius is?" "A financial genius, my child, is a man who can spend money that he has never had and which the people who think they are getting it will never see."

THE HOME

Wash Oil Painted Walls

With Soap and Water
Oil-painted walls must be washed with soap and water, using a soft flannel cloth, and taking care to wring it well before using. Use cold water to finish and dry well with linen duster.

Varnished woods should be rubbed with a chamois leather wrung out of cold water, then polished with soft duster.

To polish a varnished floor, rub well with equal quantities of beeswax and turpentine. Another method is to take equal parts of olive oil and spirits of turpentine wet a cloth with these, rub the wood hard, then rub with a dry cloth. This is also good for black walnut furniture and sewing machines.

Where paint is stained with smoke, some ashes or potash lime may be used. A soft linen should be used for wiping dry.

How to Peel Onions.

The work of skinning onions, which usually ends in tears, can be made a pleasure by pouring boiling water over them and covering for a few minutes before peeling.

Avoid Rust Spots

In Boiling Clothes

Clothes that have been boiled in water in which soap has been chipped often have rust spots appear on them after being blued. I have learned that tiny particles of the soap clinging to the clothes cause the rust spots by the chemical action of the bluing on them, says a correspondent. I now merely drop one large piece of soap into the boiler or washer, and have had no further trouble.

Fresh Air is the Best

For the Downcast

When all the notes of our being are jangling in discord we fancy that the world is out of tune.

This is so much pleasanter than believing that we ourselves are weak and silly.

One drop of bitter medicine in a glass of water will make all of an unappetizing drink; so it is with one wretched thought that pours its bitterness into the brain. 'Bad thought go away; don't come again some other day.'

Count twenty-three, put on your best hat, tog out in your glad clothes and go out and flirt with Al Fresco.

The trees, the sky, the birds, the long gray roads, the big out of doors places, are fine to chase the blues away.

Drink in the fresh air. It is free and it is good.

Cooking Greens.

To preserve the natural color of "greens," add a little sugar to the water, and boil as rapidly as possible without covering.

A Straight Tip

Mistress—I don't want you to have so much company. You have more callers in a day than I have in a week!

Domestic—Well, mum, perhaps if you'd try to be a little more agreeable you'd have as many friends as I have.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"Marriage is only a trade," says a London suffragette. And the woman usually gets the worst of the bargain.

Uncle Hank and Aunt Nancy
50c In Washington. 50c

The new book of the above title is out; and say it's a pipplin. One of these pipplins you have to get a long ladder augmented with a longer pole to dislocate it from the topmost branch of the literary tree. The author of Uncle Hank is there with the goods on that Hooster thing, and if you're hep you'll come across.

The book is printed in de luxe form in three colors throughout on heavy India tint English antique book paper and covered with very heavy antique buff in colors. Aside from being one of the best humorous books ever issued, it is a masterpiece of the publisher's art, and will make a beautiful book for any library or center table. It is on sale at just one-half what it should sell for.

It is fifty cents in heavy paper, or $1.50 in cloth. We've read it; we're wise; we know. Buy it and read it, and if you don't say you like it, the publishers will refund your four bits. There's no free copies. Ask your news-dealer or send fifty cents to

Up-to-Date

"It is a wonderful story," says the publisher to the new author, whose manuscript had just been accepted; "but you have failed in one important feature. You do not describe the way the heroine was dressed when the hero first met her. You'd better write in a paragraph about her clothes, but try to avoid the conventional."

The ingenious author, knowing the sameness of costume descriptions in the best sellers, and also knowing how to make an appeal to the feminine heart, wrote:

"Heloise floated toward him garbed in a $600 dress, a $250 hat, with a $98.75 mantilla over a $375 lace coat."—Chicago Post.
